The good ship World Peace, attempting to fight its way into port against a strong tide of conflicting ideas, seems to be receding rapidly over the horizon of the league of nations and the world disarmament conference.

World powers convening at Geneva with the hope of arranging a more satisfactory peace and disarmament program found their labors at naught when Chancellor Adolph Hitler withdrew German support from the arms parley and the league of nations.

The high-handed action of the Austro-German was ill-received by other participants in the conference, who warned Hitler that the league "is not a bit of paper" to be so lightly regarded.

The chancellor, however, who asserts that the Versailles treaty is a "slave pact" designed to keep Germany a second class nation, has the support of his countrymen—and of course the German press. The conference has adjourned for ten days, at the end of which they hope to again bring Germany into the fold with an acceptable plan.

Hitler, who has a supreme disregard for world opinion, will undoubtedly take considerable satisfying, such as the right to increase his armament, particularly as to artillery and fighting planes, which at the present time are non-existent in Germany. France, on the other hand, is prepared to make no such concession and, if worst comes to worst, is prepared to resort to arms. England is frankly angry with Hitler, and the United States has adopted an attitude of watchful waiting, determined to let the first move originate in Europe.

The position of the league is, in our opinion, somewhat weakened by the recent Chino-Japanese unpleasantness, and the latter's withdrawal from the league. That circumstance does not lend any weight to the "no scrap of paper" warning issued to the German chancellor.

All in all they have in Europe a very pretty kettle of fish indeed, and out of the mess it would not be difficult to evolve a dirty little fuss. The German army, while small, is probably the best-trained and most mobile fighting unit in Europe today, and while it might eventually be wiped out there would be hell to pay while it lasted. And there is more than a remote chance that heavy guns and aircraft might be forthcoming from Japan, who harbors little enough love for the league of nations.

We find the situation very amusing. Not yet recovered from the late world fracas, European nations are toddling about with chips on their shoulders, just spoiling for a fight. If they can pull it off without involving any nation outside of continental Europe, it might be a good idea to let them get it out of their systems once and for all. One does begin to lose patience with them.

Off on another tack: In line with their general scheme, the Germans have discussed the advisability of doing away with those suffering from incurable diseases. That might be all right if the sufferer was given the right of option, but if it is left to a commission there would enter the sinister serpent of intrigue and graft, and a lot of souls would go winging off to meet their maker who would rather have remained on earth a bit longer, suffer or no. The scheme is being attacked from the pulpit, American ministers having risen to the bait and battle with a

Would Organize Farm Bureau In Santa Clara Co.

J. J. Deuel, representing the California Farm Bureau Federation, a farmer supported, farmers' watchdog organization, is in the county this week seeking to build up the federation in this locality. Santa Clara county is the only county in the state which does not participate in the movement.

According to Mr. Deuel, the services performed by the bureau are being increased daily as more and more agricultural codes come to life. The bureau is the controlling factor in codes which are the result of the national agricultural adjustment act, such as codes for producers of cotton, wheat, hogs, peaches and walnuts, already in force, and those pending for wine grapes, olives, prunes, almonds and milk.

In addition to functioning as a governor on the agricultural code machine, the bureau keeps track of legal angles affecting the farmer, and maintains a law and public utilities rates and service department.

Counties participating in the farm bureau are entitled to the services of a county agent whose expenses are met by the federal government and the state college of agriculture. The agent supplies data on cost accounting, economics, etc.

In order to start the ball rolling in Santa Clara county, according to Deuel, it is necessary to locate 50 farmers who are prepared to sign up and conduct a membership campaign. Those interested in the movement, and who would like to secure more complete details, are requested to get in touch with C. E. York at the local high school, or Frank Abernathy of Saratoga.

Local Basketeers Meet Fremont 5's Here Friday Night

The local 110-pound squad includes Fisci, Boyto, Eritoni, Drake, Dubois, Wellington, forwards; Ogino, Nuraude, Hame, Morton, DeRose, Bohnett, Castello, guards, and Boehman, Matteson, centers.

Last Friday the teams divided honors with Santa Clara at the mission town, the 110's losing 6-7, and the 120's winning 9-8.

Sanborn Young Talks Narcotics At Kiwanis Luncheon

By Heck

Kiwanians were served with the real dope on narcotics at Tuesday's luncheon by one of our own county commissioners to the international convention at Geneva in 1931.

Chairman Mark Purmort presented the speaker as our ex-senator and next senator, Sanborn Young. With the aid of some very convincing slides, Mr. Young gave a very interesting story of the drug addict curse of this country, the worst of the enlightened nations. As compared with England's 250 dope fiends, California alone has more than 3,000.

All of the big producer countries except Japan have signed treaties to prohibit shipment to the United States, and are so efficient in enforcement that very little is smuggled in from them. Turkey, once the big source of narcotics now supplies the United States with none at all. Japan supplies great quantities, always smuggled in.

Senator Young is now working for a uniform state narcotics law which was sponsored by the last Kiwanis International held at Los Angeles.

Addicts can be cured as evidenced by the wonderful work which has been done in California during the past few years.

The annual election held at the close of the meeting resulted in the following corps of officers:

WILLIAM GILBERT DIES OF INJURIES RECEIVED AT LAKE

On Monday afternoon, Oct. 16, at 3:30 o'clock, funeral services were held at the Chapel of Chimes in Oakland for William Gilbert, 72.

Mr. Gilbert, a native of England, passed away Friday, the result of injuries sustained when he fell from his summer cottage at Tahoe while making repairs on the roof.

William Gilbert is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Abbie Wilson of Hayward, whose husband, the Rev. J. F. Wilson, is pastor of the First Methodist church in that city.

The deceased is well-known in Campbell, having resided here for 40 years. He lived on the F. E. Mitchell ranch on Quito road.

STITCHING CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. ARCHIE BRYDON

Twenty-eight members of the Ada Rebekah Stitching club met for the first fall meeting Friday afternoon, Oct. 13, at the home of Mrs. Archie Brydon, with Mrs. Al Covey as co-hostess.

The afternoon was spent sewing, chatting, and discussing work to be done by the club during the winter months. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The next meeting of the group will be on Thursday afternoon, Oct. 26 at the I. O. O. F. hall with Mrs. James Burns and Mrs. L. E. Eddlemon as hostesses.

Interesting Program Put On by Woman's Club On Guest Day

Annual guest day is one of the red letter days on the calendar of the Country Woman's club, and the observance of that occasion on Monday was another of these very happy events.

The year's program committee, Mrs. C. H. Whitman, chairman, Mrs. G. E. Jeffers, Mrs. R. G. Archibald, and Mrs. N. O. Best had assumed responsibility for that day, and they had worked untiringly to make it a success. Mrs. Harry Lohr, who had been a member of the committee, has since removed to Santa Cruz and was unable to be present.

The south end of the hall had been arranged to represent a furnished apartment for part of the program. Baskets of cosmos zinnias and other fall flowers attractively placed about the room, afforded vivid splashes of color.

Following a very brief business meeting at which Mrs. Norma Graham was elected to membership, Mrs. Whitman opened the program with a few words of welcome to the guests. She presented the president, Mrs. H. C. Smith, who greeted members and friends and extended to the guests an invitation to other meetings and membership.

Mrs. Worthin Grattan favored the company with two pleasing vocal numbers, "Desert Dawn" and "Slumber Boat Song." Mrs. David Sanders was her accompanist.

Miss Betty Jean Kellar, talented student of dramatics at the San Jose high school, gave two humorous monologues, "In A Delicatessen" and "At A Shoe Store."

A one-act play, "Soul Vibrations," proved a very happy medium for the group of students who were presented by their director, Miss Alice Hamm, teacher of dramatics at San Jose high.

The cast included Raymond Bourret, Evelyn Callisch, Hallock Wagner, Betty Jean Kellar, Bertha Kawa Kami, Eldon Schearing, Gary Simpson, Francis Gibson, Harold Randle, and Ruth Keller.

The closing feature of this interesting program was a group of songs by Campbell's much-loved soloist, Stephen Merrill, with Miss Marjorie Johns at the piano. The selections chosen were "Little Boy Blue," "Pool of Quietness," "Her Rose" and "Feather Trees."

Refreshments were served buffet style from a long table at which Mrs. E. I. Price, first president of the club, and Mrs. H. C. Smith, poured tea. The table was centered with a blue bowl of marigolds, the three colors being further emphasized in the dishes and napkins.

Mrs. A. W. Johnson, Mrs. J. B. Strong, and Mrs. W. R. Morgan assisted the committee during the refreshment hour, which was pleasantly spent by groups in friendly social chat. This concluded a happy afternoon enjoyed by about four-score members and guests.

Faculty Party

The faculty members of the local high school were recently entertained at a party by Miss Ruby Howes at her Union district home. Games, refreshments, and a social hour were enjoyed.

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR

Executive Secretary
Agricultural Council of California

A campaign of intimidation, finally culminating in bloodshed and rioting, has paralyzed California agriculture, at the height of the harvesting season, for weeks past, due to the activities of radicals and agitators in inciting farm laborers.

Heavy damage already has resulted and millions of dollars in crop losses are inevitable if this condition is permitted to continue.

It is unthinkable that the level-headed and more intelligent leaders of organized labor in California wish it to continue.

California farmers expect the conservative, thoughtful heads of the labor movement to put down the "left wing" of the labor movement which has been responsible for this campaign of lawlessness and destruction.

They have a right to expect that the law-abiding element of labor will purge labor's house of the Communists and radicals who have brought discredit upon them by this attempted reign of terror.

And they also have a right to expect that the state labor commissioner, together with other public officials who are charged with official responsibility in labor disputes, will act firmly and intelligently to end the strikers' wars and permit the orderly harvesting of California crops.

California farmers, at the same time, must do their utmost to avoid clashes with strikers, regardless of the provocation. That farmers in some sections have struck back is not a reflection on the farmers, so much as it is a reflection on the labor leaders and public officials whose inability or unwillingness to cope with the situation made it necessary for the farmer to protect himself and his property.

With the cotton harvest just getting under way, with an estimated crop of 196,000 bales to be picked and marketed, it is absolutely essential that the proper officials, both in labor and in government, deal firmly and effectively with this strike condition.

The wage scale of 60 cents per hundred pounds set by the cotton growers of the San Joaquin valley is 50 per cent higher than the scale of last year. The growers' price will be only 30 per cent higher than last year. Certainly, in face of those facts, the farmer is dealing generously with farm labor, considering his own circumstances. And it is high time for labor to reciprocate.

According to the agricultural labor bureau of the San Joaquin valley, the growers' organization which sets wage scales, many of the agitators in the valley who have incited or intimidated other workers are men who have lived on the county charity rolls for months past. In this group, the labor bureau declares, are many who have no real desire to work, regardless of the wage, and who are determined to stop anyone else from working.

Paul Scharrenberg, secretary of the state federation of labor, and other intelligent leaders of labor, could strengthen their cause for years to come if they took charge of the situation and helped to bring order out of chaos.

California, according to the most recent report of the federal government, has one of the highest farm labor wage scales in the entire United States. The California scale is exceeded only by one or two states in the New England states, which are chiefly industrial.

The California farmer has enjoyed for years the reputation of paying the best farm wages in the country. If his reward is to be terrorism and violence, it is a serious reflection on the sincerity of the labor movement.

Government officials and labor officials should act firmly and aggressively for the good of the entire state.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Mr. Taylor's assertion that many of these cotton strikers have been living off charity is probably true, but his assumption that the offer of a second-rate job should make a new and contented man of him receives scant consideration from this writer. Hand labor of all sorts has been the object of too much charity and not enough wages forever and a day, and it is hardly to be expected that he will lick the hand that feeds him until such a time as his feed more nearly matches that of other labor. Nor is the farmer at fault—it's the system.

PAST MASTERS MAY VOTE AT STATE GRANGE

An important discussion featuring a recent meeting of the Orchard City Grange dealt with a resolution of the Napa grange, which, if passed, will permit all past masters of California granges to vote at meetings of the state grange.

The resolution, which would call for an amendment to section 2 of the constitution of the state grange, met with considerable favor, inasmuch as past masters constitute a committee for the good of the order, and power to vote at state meetings might prove a boon to their activities. The matter was left to the state grange delegates, who will take whatever action they may decide upon.

Interesting Program

The We and Our Neighbors club plans an interesting meeting for this Saturday afternoon, Oct. 21. Hostesses will be Mrs. William A. Riggs and Mrs. Irving C. Butler, who are arranging for a "handicraft day." There will be an exhibit of hand-made articles, and all ladies of the club are urged to bring anything in this line which will add to the success of the day.

If you bought GAS HEAT
as you buy GROCERIES

YOU LOOK for the grocer's bargains. That's wise buying. It saves you money, or permits you to set a better table within your budget.

Natural Gas is a bargain buy. Let's imagine it's being sold in cans on the grocer's counter.

In the old days of manufactured gas, you bought the small can containing 550 units of heat. Now for the same price you get the large can, containing 1150 units of heat.

That's more than twice as much heat, twice as much for your money. You'd appreciate that bargain if you took your gas home in a market basket. But gas is not sold that way. It is delivered to you in your home, at the very spot you want it, silently, efficiently, with no bother to you. And you don't pay for it until after you have used it.

Every home today can afford the comfort, convenience and cleanliness of the gas range; of automatic hot water; of house heating—all made possible by this bargain offering of Natural Gas, the naturally better fuel.

Local Ball Club. Chalks Up Second Win Here Sunday

The Campbell baseball team, under the impetus of its new manager, Hal De Fraga, launched a victorious attack on the Napredak ball club here Sunday, defeating the Cupertino outfit 4 to 2.

The local nine's second league victory came when "School Boy" Quain pitched and hit the team to their 4-2 win. He allowed the Slavonians two singles and a home-run. In addition to his stellar pitching, Quain knocked in three runs with a homerun and a single. The fourth Campbell run was scored when Atkinson came home on a squeeze play by Third-baseman De Fraga.

The game was filled with thrills from start to finish. Kulish and Jung robbed batters of sure hits, and L. Bonacich made a double play as he touched second and threw to first while lying flat on his back.

There was a good crowd of fans on hand. Good support was enjoyed by the Campbell club.

Next Sunday the Campbell club travels to Sunnyvale to play their third league game, and the Napredaks play Richmond-Chase at the Campbell diamond. It is hoped by the local management that as many fans as can will follow the team to Sunnyvale, and those who are unable to travel will come out and support the Napredaks, as they are a team of real sports.

A bit of information regarding individual players on the Campbell team is calculated to increase interest of local fans in the hometown ball club, and it is offered herewith:

Breck Reed and "Spec" Clark, catcher and outfielder respectively, need no introduction to the locals, as they are former high school athletes. "Spec," besides playing in the outfield, does some relief pitching.

Lloyd (School Boy) Quain, regular pitcher, is a freshman at San Jose state. He has pitched for the team for two years. He is 19.

Cal Tucker, first baseman, is one of the hardest hitters on the team. He's a good first baseman, and when he isn't playing ball, he operates a restaurant at 21 Post street in San Jose.

Gil Bishop, second baseman, is another state college student. He is one of the two out-of-town boys, hailing from Shandon, on southern California.

Roger Thurber, shortstop, also attends State. He is a sweet lead-off, and last Sunday got three hits, one of which was a bunt that he beat out.

Gene Jung, outfielder and relief pitcher is a Stanford student. He is the team's leading hitter. Gene plays a good game in center field and in addition has proved his worth as a relief chucker. He is a good man to follow Quain, as his curves baffle batters after they have been looking at Quain's fast ball.

Bud White, outfielder, 17-year-old San Jose high player, is the only southpaw on the team. Great things are predicted for the kid as he gains age and experience.

"Dunce" Atkinson, outfielder, is the other out-of-town player. He hails from Oregon, and is probably the fastest man in the club, and is by far the best baserunner. He is expected to steal plenty on every

Headliners Featured At Oakland Track

Oakland, Oct. 18—Big time auto racing once more returns to northern California with the re-opening of the Oakland speedway Sunday afternoon, Oct. 22. Once more the country's leading knights of the roaring road will battle for golden glory in a 100-mile classic which promises to shatter several of the records of the Oakland track. The pick of the nation's speed kings, including Ernie Triplett, 1931-32 Pacific coast champion, Rex Mays, leading contender for the 1933 title, and George Conners, Al Gordon, Guy Deulen, Mauri Rose, Sam Palmer, Babe Stapp, Carl Ryder, Herb Balmer, Mel Keneally, Kelly Petillo, and Harry Jacques.

In addition to the 100-mile event there will be four five-mile sprints and a 15-mile thriller for Class B cars.

Much of the interest amongst speedway fans centers about the battle between Triplett and Mays for the 1933 Pacific coast championship. Rex toppled Ernie off the top of the titular heap several weeks ago, but his edge is so slight that a victory for Triplett Sunday afternoon would once more put Ernie high in front. So keen is the competition between these stars of the roaring road that in a recent clash at the Legion Ascot speedway in Los Angeles, the pair hooked wheels and both went over the top rail of the track. Fortunately, however, neither one was injured.

Much interest is centered around the entry of Mauri Rose of Dayton, Ohio, due to the fact that he is tooling the car that the late Bob Carey, 1932 national champion, drove in the last 100-mile race at the Oakland speedway which Carey not only won, but also established a new 100-mile American dirt track record.

Babe Stapp's appearance at Oakland has also aroused much interest due to the fact that there is no love lost between he and Triplett, and while Stapp has no chance to win this year's Pacific coast championship, he will take keen delight in trouncing his rival.

Six entries comprise Sunday's racing program. Time trials start at noon, and the first race is at 2 o'clock.

Last there is Hal De Fraga, third baseman. He wishes, through these columns, to thank the local people for the support they have given, and hopes that future games will be as good as those of the past.

In order to raise money for uniforms and other equipment, the Campbell ball club is sponsoring a dance at the high school annex this Saturday evening. Good music has been arranged for. Tickets may be purchased at the Busy Bee, Horace Lea's, Jones service station, Billiken, from Tony Ferro, or at the door. Dancing from 9 to 12 for 50 cents a couple.

"Seth Parker" Sing Attended by Good Crowd Thursday

The parlors of the Congregational church were filled to capacity with a few on the waiting list Thursday evening when the ladies of Group 1 served a very tasty dinner which included, among other choice morsels, a delectable dish called "frickadellen." To the uninitiated, that is a Danish meat ball notable for its unusual seasoning.

When appetites had been completely satisfied, the participants assembled in the auditorium where they were pleasantly entertained by the choir in "An Evening at Seth Parker's."

The stage had been dressed up to simulate the parlor of the well-known meeting place as we imagine it from the various remarks of the company—the organ, the lamps, the stove, and appropriate furniture and fixings.

Miss Annette Merrill assumed the role of Mother Parker, and Walter Stray did the honors as Seth. Costumes of all the "geth-er-in" were in harmony with the old-time setting.

Mrs. Worthin Grattan, as Lizzie, portrayed in remarkable style the fuss-betty-ness of the old maid, and Alfred Beer was a good imitation of Cephus "sleepin' when he's sleepy."

Dr. W. I. Merrill made a very good captain, with his delayed "Amen," and Stephen Merrill was the popular tenor, John.

The program was a replica of those conducted in the Parker home. It included solos by Dr. Merrill and Stephen, a quartet, H. C. Smith, Elmer Sundquist, Abe Klassen and R. Y. Maxson; a duet by Mrs. Grattan and Miss Merrill, and a duet by the "Parkers." Group singing, a reading, the collection, and all.

great deal of pleasure. One of arguments used by the clergy is that "suffering is a power for good." We entertain little sympathy for that angle of attack. Being definitely out of the active picture would, we fear, sour rather than sweeten, the milk of human kindness—particularly in the heart of your already non-to-smooth-tempered editor. No, when civilization advances to the point where we are as kind to suffering humans as we are to suffering animals, we will still believe in the right of option.

Senator Huey P. Long, self-styled champion of the masses and one of the biggest fools or most misunderstood men of all time, in an address delivered at Donalds-ville, Ga., said, "The NRA was supposed to decrease hours, raise wages and employ more people. While the government was telling a man who runs a store he had to shorten hours, increase pay and employ more people, the same government began to fire employees, cut wages and lengthen hours. Do you think I would be a party to that just because the president tells me to?"

The Press does not see eye to eye with Senator Long on a great many issues, but we must recognize the truth of his statement. It was not necessary, however, to publicly declare himself out of sympathy with the program. Better by far to start the ball rolling toward increased pay and payrolls in the federal government wherever he can find a department in which curtailment cut out necessary functionaries.

SHRINERS VISIT HOSPITAL AT SAN FRANCISCO SUNDAY

Sunday the Santa Clara County Shrine club visitation to the Shrine children's hospital was augmented from this community by the H. W. Morton family and Mrs. O. A. Putnam, whose daughter, Vaudine Putnam Saunders, presented her pupils in a dance program for the amusement of the young patients.

Wilbur Morton rendered a trumpet solo, accompanied by A. A. Thielke, and Arthur Heinse performed sleight-of-hand tricks.

Mr. Morton, who represents Islam temple in Campbell, says that next year he will try to get more people from here to go up and see the wonderful work that is being done at the hospital, which is supported entirely by shriners and ladies connected in various ways with the Masonic order, such as the White Shrine and Eastern Star.

The annual East-West football game slated for New Year's day at Kezar stadium in San Francisco is one means of raising money for the work. Mr. Morton will have tickets to this game for sale at an early date, and urges fans who plan to attend to put in their orders right away. Popular prices will prevail this year.

Walnut Code Is Boon, Says Head Of Growers' Assn.

Sacramento, Oct. 18—The walnut marketing agreement signed this week by the secretary of agriculture, and now in effect, is of particular interest to California walnut growers because of the immediate beneficial results which may come from it, according to E. L. Markell field representative of the agricultural adjustment administration, with offices in the state department of agriculture.

The agreement covers the walnut industry of the west, including California, Washington, and Oregon. The marketing pact is of special interest to California, Markell said, because the walnut production outside of the California Walnut Growers association, which controls about 90 per cent of the state's yield, might seriously hamper the association's marketing policy.

"The present available supply of walnuts, including last year's carryover, is the largest in the history of the industry, which in view of the existing curtailed buying power, clearly indicates the need for a very definite control of marketing," Markell stated.
